Your 2010 Guide to Giving

United we can.

Investing in the potential of youth

Since age 14, Paul Williams has been a member of the Boys and Girls Club, a United Way funded agency. The Club gave him a safe place to go after school and a chance to make friends and learn new skills. Now 19, he is part of his community's Youth Council, funded in part through a United Way neighbourhood development grant to the Boys and Girls Club. Paul's involvement in the Youth Council has enhanced his leadership skills, broadened his horizons, and made him a positive role model for local children and youth. Inspired by his experience, Paul is now pursuing an education in police work and looks forward to a future of helping children reach their potential.

Change for the good.

When we unite in a common cause of caring, we create change for the good. By giving to United Way, you support services that meet immediate needs and tackle the root causes of tough social problems like poverty and violence. Through our collective generosity, individuals become resilient and more able to cope with challenges. Families grow stronger. Neighbourhoods become safer and more vibrant. Lives are filled with hope and futures grow bright.

United we can change lives.

Many people in our community struggle with challenges they shouldn't have to face alone. Whether it's a family pushed deeper into poverty by the recent recession, a child who needs a safe and welcoming place to go after school, or a frail senior dreading another empty day, more people than ever will be turning to United Way agencies this year. That's because ours is one of the fastest growing communities in the country. This growth increases the demand on agencies already stretched to the limit. After government, United Way is the largest funder of social services in our community. Without this lifeline of support, many vital services and programs would be lost. We can't let that happen.

United Way's Community Fund.

United Way is at work across our community every day. Your gift to United Way's Community Fund supports a network of 99 programs and services provided through 53 social service agencies in Mississauga, Brampton and Caledon. This vital network provides assistance to more than 420,000 people, including children and youth, seniors, people with mental illness, women who have been abused, newcomers, families, individuals with disabilities, and people living in poverty. The Community Fund also helps build strong agencies, fosters community partnerships, invests in initiatives that provide economic opportunities, and enables United Way to speak out to change community conditions.

Our impact.

Last year with generous support from donors, United Way:

- Helped 54,971 children and youth increase their social skills, self esteem and leadership abilities, putting them on the path to future success.

- Assisted 12,637 adults, youth and children with disabilities to live independently, gain employment skills and stay engaged in the community.
- Enabled 2,719 seniors to reduce their isolation through a variety of social supports, helping them to maintain their independence.
- Connected 16,771 individuals with mental illness to counselling, support and skills training, helping them to increase their self esteem, life skills and employment opportunities.
- Supplied food and basic necessities to 24,239 individuals, including children, who are homeless and/or living in poverty.
- Provided referrals to community resources, employment mentoring, cultural orientation and help in finding work for 58,076 newcomers and immigrants, enabling them to settle and integrate in their new country.
